Congress Will Seek Austerity To Back Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's six allies in the London gold pool converged on Washington today for a two-day conference seeking to solve the gravest global money crisis in 40 years.

As the central bankers assembled, a congressional drive developed to force a greater fiscal austerity on this country—and thus to generate, it was hoped, greater confidence in the dollar.

The plan calls for not only the deflationary 10 per cent tax surcharge asked by President

War Fear

BRUSSELS (AP) — European concern over the Vietnam war's cost in money, as well as men, is seen here as a leading cause of the run on gold.

There is the basic fact that for 17 out of the past 18 years, the United States has been shipping out more dollars and gold than it takes in, thus causing a deficit in the balance of payments.

Many Europeans are fearful that the conflict in Vietnam will be much more difficult to plug.

"If they would only announce in Washington tomorrow that they are de-escalating the war," that might make all the difference," said a Brussels broker.

Johnson, but a multibillion-dollar slash in Johnson's fiscal 1969 spending budget—a cut imposed on him by act of Congress.

Mills Approves
That congressional move reportedly had the approval of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the potent chairman of the House Ways and Means committee.

Mills has admitted nothing publicly but is known to have conferred at length with Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee. Mahon favors the double-edged plan.

But it remained to be seen whether those moves, buttressing the secret seven-power talks in the mausoleum-like Federal Reserve Board building, would dissuade profit-hungry gold speculators from resuming next week their frantic assault on the dollar in the world's gold markets.

Worst Since 1929
The crisis was generally regarded as the most severe since the stock market collapse of 1929.

Airtight security was assured for the weekend conference of the central bankers of the United States.

Businessmen Hear President

Going To Win War, Says LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told a blue ribbon gathering of American businessmen today that "we are going to win" the war in Vietnam, "hopefully at the negotiating table, but on the battlefield if we must."

Johnson also disclosed that talks are underway with Congressional leaders on cutting the budget—a move designed to break the legislative blockade against the administration's bill to apply a 10 per cent income surtax.

The chief executive spoke to corporation executives meeting under the wing of the National Alliance of Businessmen, which is working with the government to put 500,000 hard core unemployed into jobs by 1971.

Johnson affirmed his intention to "give our fighting men in Vietnam the help and support they need." But from the way he spoke and the manner he used, it appeared evident that this does not involve a vast expansion of military manpower in Vietnam of the dimensions mentioned in various quarters lately.

Brown Leaves British Govt.

LONDON (AP) — A political whirlwind churned in London today after the world gold crisis brought on the resignation of volatile George Brown as foreign secretary and the appointment of mild-mannered Michael Stewart.

It was believed unlikely that British foreign policy will change much under Stewart but the impact at home was sharp with opposition cries for the resignation of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Brown and Stewart both defended the Labor government's support of U.S. policy in Vietnam, and both pushed Britain's application to join the European Common Market.

In his resignation letter to Wilson Friday, Brown said he had been troubled for some time by "the way this government is run and the manner in which we reach our decisions." The last straw for the 53-year-old minister, however, was not being consulted by Wilson in the decision to close the London gold market Friday at Washington's suggestion.

Within the administration, those in the know look on troop increases ranging up to the 200,000 involved in current speculation as what they call "dove scare figures."

They view talk of a $15 or $20 billion increase in spending for the war in a similar light.

And on the tax bill front, there seemed to be no doubt that what is being lined up is a cut in appropriations and spending to match the size of the tax boost.

Whether Congress will buy it or not is open to a measure of question. But the administration now believes what might come out is a tax increase of $9 billion plus, and an accompanying slash of that amount in appropriations out of the budget Johnson submitted to Congress in January.

Room Jammed
The large room was jammed, when Kennedy came in, he was greeted by applause and at the end of his formal statement he again got an ovation.

Asked if he thought he could work toward his goals as Johnson's 1968 running mate, Kennedy said no, and that he doubted Johnson could work toward his goals with him on the ticket.

Steelworkers Ratify Phelps Dodge Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union ratified today a contract settlement with Phelps Dodge Corp., one of four major firms in White House negotiations aimed at ending the eight-month nationwide copper strike.

The reported tentative agreements with Kennecott and Phelps Dodge cover about 15,000 of the 50,000 strikers, and even if ratified by the workers would not immediately end the walk-out. The unions have insisted all contracts with all unions be signed before work is resumed.

The Steelworkers reportedly had turned down the Phelps Dodge offer, valued by the company at 1.1 per hour in higher wages and fringe benefits. But leaders of the other 25 unions had agreed to recommend the proposal to their members, according to an industry source.

Kennecott valued its proposal at 54 cents in higher wages as well as unspecified improvements in fringe benefits.

Both proposals cover basically western mining and smelting operations. Settlements remain to be reached on plants involved in copper fabricating and lead and zinc production.

Policy Stand Sees Peril In Nation's Course

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said today that "I really haven't been moved to withdraw at this point," by the announcement of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy that he is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I've made no change in my plans," he said, "because of New Hampshire or in the consequences of Sen. Kennedy's announcement."

By JACK RILL and JOSEPH E. MOHRBAT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy charged into the contest today to wrest the Democratic presidential nomination from President Johnson, saying the country is on "a perilous course."

The New York senator's entry into the race at a crowded televised news conference pits him against a fellow Roman Catholic and Vietnam war critic, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

Kennedy said his entry against Johnson, the man chosen by his assassinated brother was not in opposition to the individual but to his policies.

But he added the only way to change the "disastrous, divisive" policies of the Johnson administration is to oppose the man himself.

Enters Primaries
Kennedy said he will enter his name in the June 2 California primary, and also those in Oregon May 28 and Nebraska May 17 because the laws of those states require that his name go on the ballot.

He stated at the same time he intends to "both support and expand his McCarthy's valiant campaign." He called for the biggest majorities for McCarthy in primaries next month in Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

Kennedy said he made clear to McCarthy that "my candidacy would not be in opposition to his, but in harmony."

"My desire is not to divide the strength of those forces seeking a change, but to increase," the New Yorker senator said.

No Personal Animosity
"Finally, my decision reflects no personal animosity or disrespect toward President Johnson. He served President Kennedy with the utmost loyalty and was extremely kind to me and members of my family in the difficult months which followed the events of November 1963."

Seated behind Kennedy at a large table were his wife Ethel and some of his 10 children. Although the children watched their father attentively, one twirled his arms through the air from time to time.

Mrs. Kennedy watched her husband closely as he answered reporters' questions.

Chances

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson took bantering note of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's plunge into the presidential race today.

"These are days when we have to take chances," Johnson said. "Some speculate in gold — a primary metal-and others just speculate in primaries."

Johnson spoke at a businessmen's conference headed by Henry Ford II, who was replaced by Kennedy as the scheduled guest on the NBC television-radio interview "Meet the Press" Sunday.

"I don't want to tell you all my reactions this morning," Johnson quipped. "But when I saw he pushed Henry Ford off 'Meet the Press' tomorrow I thought that was going too far too early."

deep thought to this. But he said his objective is to broaden the opposition to present policies.

He said he has listened to the nation's young people "about the war they are sent to fight and the world they are about to inherit."

He said the course of the war in Vietnam risks a wider war.

"I cannot stand aside from the contest" that will decide the nation's future, he added.

"I run because I am convinced that this country is on a perilous course and because I have such strong feelings about what must be done that I am obligated to do all I can," Kennedy said.

Told President

"I do not lightly dismiss the dangers and difficulties of challenging an incumbent president," he added in his formal announcement before a national television audience from the old Senate Office Building Caucus Room.

"But these are not ordinary times and this is not an ordinary election," he said. "At

U.S. Forces Trap Cong Guerrilla Unit

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen, in a hide-and-seek fight through rice paddies and sand dunes along the central coast, killed 128 Viet Cong guerrillas today, the U.S. Command said.

A spokesman said a company of the 11th Light Infantry Brigade, sweeping into an area that had been bombarded minutes earlier, tangled with guerrillas this morning.

A second company was dropped by helicopters two miles to the north an hour later and heavy fighting broke out as the guerrillas tried to escape the tightening vise.

battle six miles northeast of Quang Ngai City and 330 miles northeast of Saigon.

American casualties were not given since the forces were still in contact, a U.S. spokesman said.

In the Vietnam war's biggest operation, centered around Saigon, the total of slain enemy soldiers gradually increased to 394 with 83 suspects detained in the first six days. The U.S. Command said 27 Americans have been killed and 213 wounded.

Vietnamese army headquarters said casualties among the government troops were light.

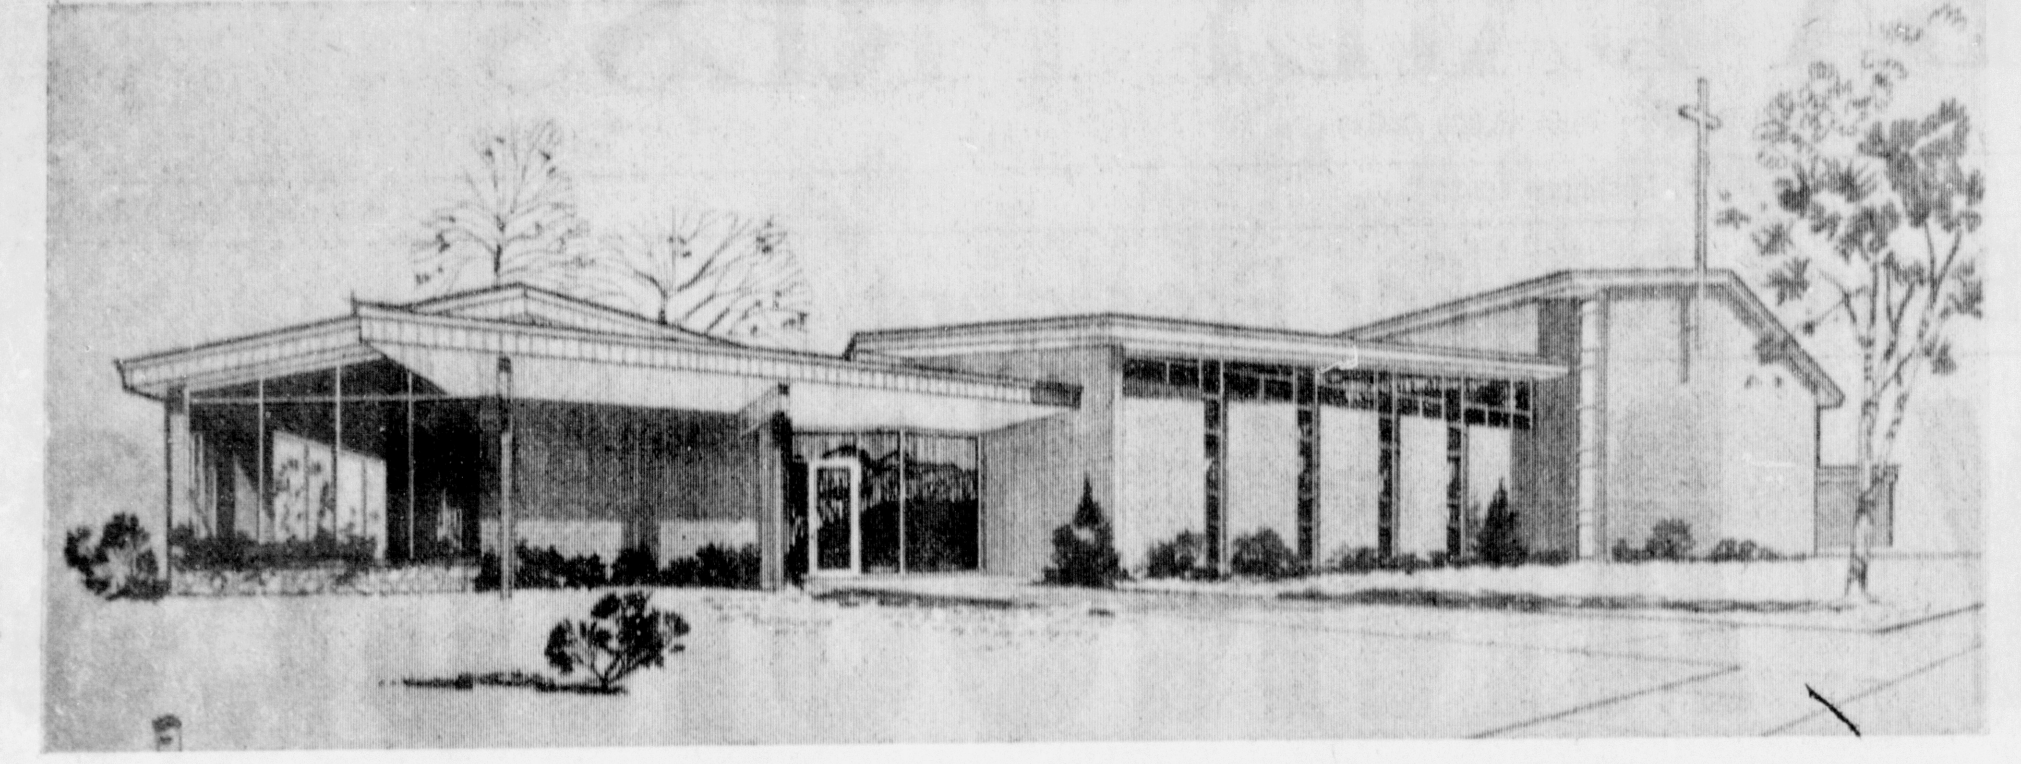

The latest clash was fought by soldiers of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division who killed nine guerrillas and captured three suspects

Friday near Thu Duc, nine miles northeast of Saigon. American losses were 2 killed and 10 wounded.

Earlier Friday, a combined American-South Vietnamese force killed 81 enemy soldiers in the biggest battle so far in Operation Quyet Thang—Resolve to Win.

The massive operation, involving some 50,000 troops, was launched Monday in five provinces north, west and south of Saigon.

Lt. Gen. Fred C. Weyand, commanding the 56-battalion strike force, said the goal is to "cover all the principal populated areas so that the people will know that the government is still in control."

THIS IS AN ARTIST'S SKETCH of the new St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of Escanaba to be built on the site of the present church, which will be removed after Sunday's last service. The new building, designed by Norman Arntzen of G. Arntzen & Co., will face, above on 5th Ave., where the old one faced on 3rd Ave. S., and sided on 6th St. The church nave and sanctuary are in the right part of the building, the entry is in the center and the church school wing is on the left.

Last St. Stephen's Service Sunday

On Sunday, at 10 a.m. the last service will be held in the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church building at 3rd Ave. S. and S. 6th St.

On the following day, demolition of the building will be started to make room for new facilities to be erected on the site. The last service will be a festival service of Holy Communion, celebrated by the Rev. Ben F. Helmer, rector, "in recognition of God's gifts to the parish in the past and in anticipation of the future."

On Sunday, March 24, and weekly thereafter, 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. services will be held in the multi-purpose room of the Franklin School a block from the church site until the new church building is completed in 1969.

The new St. Stephen's, designed by Norman Arntzen of G. Arntzen & Co., a member of the parish, will combine worship, educational and multi-purpose facilities under one roof, giving much-needed room for expansion of the work of St. Stephen's. Olsen & Flath will be in charge of construction. Other contractors selected are: Mechanical, R. G. Beck & Co.; electrical, Hewitt Electric; and demolition, Steve Marvic.

Financing has been arranged with Detroit & Northern Savings & Loan Assn. through its local representative, the B. W. Hall Agency. The parish recently completed a successful capital funds drive which will provide approximately $115,000 over the next three years.

The original frame church building on the site was built in 1884. Some years ago, brick veneer was added giving the building its unique appearance. From time to time, renovations have taken place, but because of the type and location of the structure, the necessary enlargement for parish needs could not be made, and it was decided by the parish to start anew.

Bakeries Drop Innocent Pleas

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Eight Michigan bakeries and six executives accused of price-rigging were allowed to change pleas of innocent to no contest in U. S. District Court Friday.

Judge Noel P. Fox then ordered presentence investigations for the 14 defendants.

A no-contest plea allows the court to impose sentence as if the defendants had pleaded guilty or been found guilty. Historically it is considered a plea for mercy.

The 14 include Roskam Baking Co., Grand Rapids; Grocers Baking Co. and L. S. Parsons, general manager, Grand Rapids; Dutch Treat Bakers Inc., Kalamazoo; and Walter Henley Jr., vice president; Koppinger's Bakery Inc., Oak Park; and Robert Bohringer, vice president; Michigan Bakeries Inc., Grand Rapids; Way Baking Co., Jackson; and John Way Jr., president; Case Baking Co., Saginaw; and Eugene Gase Jr., president; Schafer Bakeries Inc., Lansing; and Russell E. Kisor, president.

Two executives, Donald O. Roskam, president of Roskam Baking, and Harold C. Overholt, former president of Michigan Bakeries, were out of town and the court indicated they would be re-arrested later.

Still listed as facing trial were four national companies and the Michigan Bakers Association Inc.

A criminal information filed by the Justice Department charged the defendants violated provisions of the Sherman Antitrust Act and conspired to rig prices of bread and baked goods sold in Michigan.

Report Scores Bias At MSU

DETROIT (AP)—A report accusing Michigan State University of racial discrimination in some hiring practices is on file with the Office for Civil Rights, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, federal officials confirmed. A copyright story on the report appeared in the Michigan Daily, student newspaper at the University of Michigan.

The 20-page document includes recommendations for correcting the situation at MSU and Ted Sennett, deputy regional director for the Office of Civil Rights in Chicago, is in Washington this week to determine how the recommendations should be implemented.

MSU Provost Howard Neville, asked about the report, said, "There have been discussions. I am unable to comment about them at this time."

The report recommends that MSU set up an office of equal opportunity with a staff responsible to the university president, Dr. John Hannah. It also urges that an educational program be created to tell minorities in Michigan about vocational opportunities at MSU, and it suggests that the university seek Negro faculty members from Negro colleges. It does not, however, explicitly attack MSU's faculty hiring practices.

Walter Greene, past director of the Detroit Contract Compliance Office of the Defense Department, said Michigan State "has failed to engage in affirmative action as specified under

40 Years In Business

Cliff O'Donnell Marks A Special Irish Day

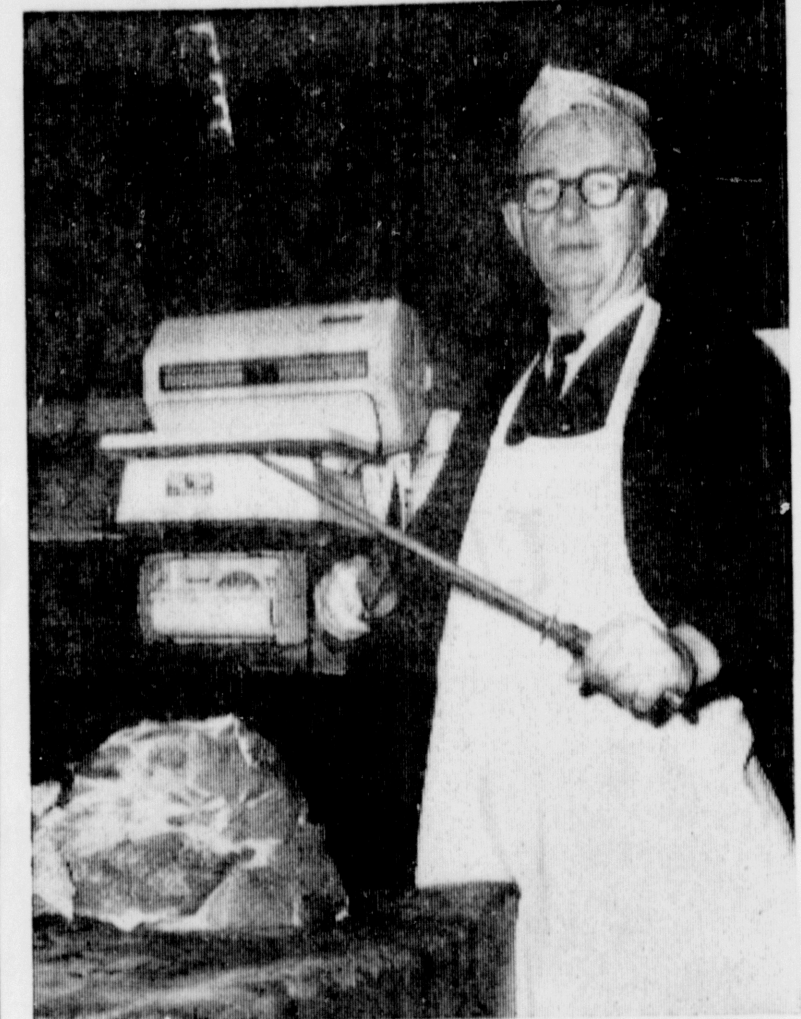

By DAVE ANDREWS

St. Patrick's Day annually is a special day for the Irish 'O' the land, but for Clifford O'Donnell, an Escanaba Irishman, St. Patrick's Day 1968 will be a cut above the others.

O'Donnell, owner of Cliff's Cash Market, 330 S. 15th St., will observe 40 years of business Sunday and Sunday, of course, is St. Patrick's Day.

O'Donnell said he entered business on St. Patrick's Day 1928. He's been going strong ever since and although the nature of the grocery industry has changed dramatically with the coming of the supermarket, O'Donnell still maintains some of the "old time" services in his neighborhood store.

The meat department of the market, for example, still includes the refrigerator case from which individual cuts of meat are prepared and wrapped.

AFTER 40 YEARS in business, Cliff O'Donnell sharpens a knife to begin work on a chunk of beef. O'Donnell will observe his 40th business anniversary on St. Patrick's Day. (Daily Press Photo)

Still Delivers

And Cliff's Market remains one of the few stores in the community which continues to deliver groceries.

"It's expensive," he pointed out, "but a lot of our customers, particularly the older ones, are very grateful for the service. Our boys even open the Sanka bottles for them."

O'Donnell explained that he entered business with a partner — Con McCauley, another Irishman — across the street from his current location in the building which now houses the Family Bakery.

He said there were no special plans made to open on St. Patrick's Day, but they did to meet the competition of another grocery which was going in at his present building at the same time. The business remained in the Family Bakery Building for 11 years before he moved across the street 29 years ago.

Ground By Hand

O'Donnell, who has always been the butcher, said in those days there was no electric refrigeration, just ice. Hamburger, he pointed out, was four pounds for a quarter.

"I'll never forget the customers who used to walk in at six o'clock on Saturday nights and order four pounds," O'Donnell recalled with a smile. "It was closing time and we had to grind it all by hand."

Year's ago, he also remembered, store employees had to put up merchandise all by hand, sacking coffee and peanuts and heating up lard so it could be put in butter dishes.

"The way foods are packaged today," he told a customer Friday, "there's no need for anyone to starve."

Has Five Children

St. Patrick's Day, of course, he fondly remembers. There used to be special plays and live entertainment at the Escanaba theatres, O'Donnell said, and as a child he used to go with "Mrs. Kane and Mrs.

Flynn" who always made a special trip from Bark River. This Sunday, O'Donnell said, he isn't planning anything special except to "take Mom out to dinner."

O'Donnell is married to the former Bernice Brazeau. They have five children, sons Mike with the U.S. Army in Vietnam, Dennis with the Army in Germany, and Clifford Jr. of Lansing, and daughters, Mrs. Pete

Public Services Directory Set

The Delta County Council of Public Services elected officers and defined its membership interest at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Sherman Friday.

President Arnold Williams, manager of the Social Security office, presided at the session which elected Lyle Plowman of Bay de Noc College faculty president and Mrs. Charles Byrns of the Red Cross as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Byrns headed a committee including Mrs. William Taylor, League of Women Voters; Charles Gallagher, Mental Health Clinic; and John Lamsie, Social Security, which revised the by-laws to make the council representative of staffing in health, education and welfare agencies, but open to all interested persons.

The council will create a structure for monthly discussions on timely subjects of interest to the membership. It will meet at lunch on the second Friday of each month from September through May.

First project will be to compile a directory of health and welfare agencies in Delta County. Aim of the group will be to create unified approach to community problems.

Lawrence Curran, director of the Delta County Department of Social Welfare, described the food stamp plan being started in Delta County by the State Department of Social Services and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to distribute surplus foods to eligible persons.

Sault Tot Has Heart Surgery

ANN ARBOR (AP) —Dennis Lihou, 5, of Sault Ste. Marie was reported in fair condition Friday night at University Hospital here after more than five hours of open heart surgery.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lihou went into the operation with twice as much blood backing him as he probably needed. The blood was donated by 40 men of the 507th Engineering Squadron at Kincheloe Air Force Base near his home.

The men learned of the operation through a nurse at a Sault Ste. Marie hospital. They talked it over and found everyone wanted to help, resulting in 40 pints of blood.

Said Airman 1. C. Terry Heistman: "The idea that I could save the life of a little boy makes me feel I've done something very worthwhile."

Non-Stop Service Petition Filed By North Central

North Central Airlines has filed an application with the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) for nonstop service between Minneapolis/St. Paul, Milwaukee, and Detroit.

The filing was made in connection on regional airline's nonstop applications. North Central presently operates flights between Detroit, Milwaukee, and the Twin Cities, but is required to make intermediate stops.

The North Central proposal would be in addition to present service available between the cities and would fill certain scheduling gaps now present. Two daily round-trip flights would be provided in the prime early-morning and early-evening peak travel periods.

At present, the Detroit-Milwaukee market is without competitive nonstop service.

Phone Pioneers Asking Gifts Of Soap And Salt

Donations of soap, pencils and salt to be sent to people living in underdeveloped parts of the world where such commonplace items are rarities are being sought by the Wolverine Chapter of Telephone Pioneers.

"Each year the Telephone Pioneers work with the U.S. Navy's 'Project Handclasp', and the project to be conducted in the month of March is to collect soap, pencils and salt", says Harold B. Nelson, publicity chairman of the Northern Council of Telephone Pioneers. Nelson said that Telephone Pioneer Clubs all across the Upper Peninsula are being asked to participate in this project being sponsored by the Northern Council.

The Wolverine Chapter, which covers the entire state, last year collected 17,000 pounds of soap, 4,000 pounds of salt and 52,225 pencils. In addition one state salt company donated 15 tons of salt to the cause.

Lucile Beauchamp, president of the Escanaba Club, is asking local residents to bring their donations to the Michigan Bell building at 210 S. 10th St., or if the donor has large contribution some member of the Pioneers will call for it.

February Timber Sales $68,798

Loggers operating on state land in the Upper Peninsula remitted a total of $68,798 for timber cut in February, state foresters report. Four thousand six hundred and ninety dollars was received during the month for the sale of sand and gravel.

In addition Upper Peninsula state foresters marked 194 acres of timber and cruised 2,801 acres for future sales estimated at 15,421 cords of pulpwood. The Baraga-Crystal Falls Forestry District I received $23,463 on 131 active timber permits, the Escanaba District III received $20,227 on 124 active permits and the Newberry District IV received $25,107 from 55 permits.

MUNISING — The Upper Peninsula's newest — and most spectacular — snowmobile trail was opened recently by the Michigan Conservation Dept.

Known as the Pictured Rocks Trail, it runs for 24 miles through the Grand Sable State Forest in Alger County over land that will be part of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore.

The trail, which is well-marked with orange ribbons, begins a mile or so east of Van Meer and proceeds northwest to the Pictured Rocks, following Lake Superior to Chapel Beach and Little Chapel Lake and then turning south. En route back to the starting point, the trail takes the snowmobiler to Mosquito Falls, across the Mosquito River and past Noble Lake.

Rock

The Sacred Heart Guild at Rock has changed its future meeting dates to the third Tuesday of the month. The next meeting will be held at the Rock Lions clubhouse on Tuesday, March 19. The third group study discussion will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by the regular business meeting. All interested women are invited to attend. Lunch will be served by Veronica Peltio and Mary Nelson.

Our Money Woes

Businessmen and economists have been saying for some time that they fear that the nation's economy is out of control.

It must be now be apparent to labor, too. People ask: Does the rush to buy gold in Europe mean anything to me? The answer is: You betcha!

The United States has just over $12 billion in gold left in its reserves. Of this, $10 billion is set aside under law as a backing for our currency.

Foreigners now hold $33 billion in U. S. dollars that they can redeem for gold. When they lose confidence in our dollars they exchange them for gold. We obviously don't have enough gold to cover our foreign exchange.

The United States has been running a deficit in its balance of trade for years. Our military spending, our foreign aid, our tourist spending abroad, and our business investments abroad contribute to it.

When people abroad lose confidence in the value of our money they ask that we redeem it in gold. This is happening. There's a rush to buy gold. The value of money may shrink, but the value of gold will be constant, or it will increase, as it has lately where there's a free market.

Americans who understand our economic system are frightened by the failure of the Johnson Administration and Congress to deal realistically with our budget and inflation problems. If we're going to continue deficit spending it will cause consternation and economic reaction at home, but it will cause panic abroad. Foreigners want to get rid of dollars for fear they'll turn phony.

The war in Vietnam controls the U. S. budget. If its cost is realistically budgeted, so that there is a tax to pay what the war is costing, it does not seriously disturb the economy and the money system of the country. But this is not being done.

The war has added at least $25 billion a year to U. S. spending and war expenditures are growing. If President Johnson gives General Westmoreland the 206,000 added men requested for the war it would add up to $10 billion a year to our military spending.

The Johnson Administration has been loath to identify its requests for more taxes as a "war tax" but Treasury Secretary Fowler now so identifies a request for more taxes. And he says that the 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes that President Johnson asked earlier won't be enough now, the need is much greater. He'd like a 20 per cent surcharge on incomes.

Congress insists that the President cut non-military spending and consult it on increased military spending before it will do anything big on tax increases. Meanwhile the trouble deepens and the possibility of wage, price and credit controls increases.

Strategies to stopper the gold flow won't be more than palliatives. The real sickness comes from the U. S. deficit in its balance of payments (spending more abroad that it gets in foreign exchange). This created the trouble and this must be corrected or we've got big trouble.

An answer to the editorial on justice for teens:

We of the Delta County Beverage Association have asked the courts of Delta County to back us up on a crack-down on minors caught with alcoholic beverages in their cars or possession. But the only answer we got from our City Municipal Courts was that these kids can't afford a large fine.

But Justice of the Peace Edward Gladstone and Justice of the Peace Davis of Gladstone backed us up with a larger fine and sometimes a 30 day jail sentence.

The police departments have enough to do without chasing kids with beer in their cars, but the worst part is that when they take these same kids to court, nothing seems to be done about it. There is a law in Michigan that says anyone caught with alcoholic beverages in their cars is subject to at least a $100 fine or 30 days in jail and also to have their cars impounded for 30 days.

But the worst a juvenile can get is a $25 fine. So we of the Delta County Beverage Association are in favor of the Municipal Court stopping mollycoddling minors and giving them something to think about before they attempt to drive around with beer in their cars. Delta County License Beverage Association.

MEDICARE

Industry is on the move in Delta County. One of the several basic demands for industrial promotion is the best hospital service a given economic and geographical area can support.

I just completed the installation of an improved hospital medical program. My employees enjoy protection second to none. We want a good hospital and are willing to pay the cost of its operation.

Blue Cross has not been popular with the major industries in Escanaba. Why should industry pay any portion of Blue Cross subscribers' bills? To the extent that bills are not paid in full they must be spread to the patients that do pay in full.

Under this heading one must include Medicaid and Medicare. The concept of these programs is proper. However, taxes typically were not levied at a high enough level. These programs force hospitals to accept payments below operating costs.

The hospitals are blamed and the social planners very cleverly get by with the credit of giving the taxpayer something for almost nothing. I have notified the hospital that I do not want my program of insurance and my employees to pay any bill in excess of that charge made to Blue Cross. This just seems fair and logical.

State To Outlaw Use Of 'Hard' Pesticides

Condensed from the article "The Case Against Hard Pesticides" which appeared in the Jan.-Feb., 1968, issue of Michigan Conservation, this article was written by Conservation Director Ralph MacMullan.

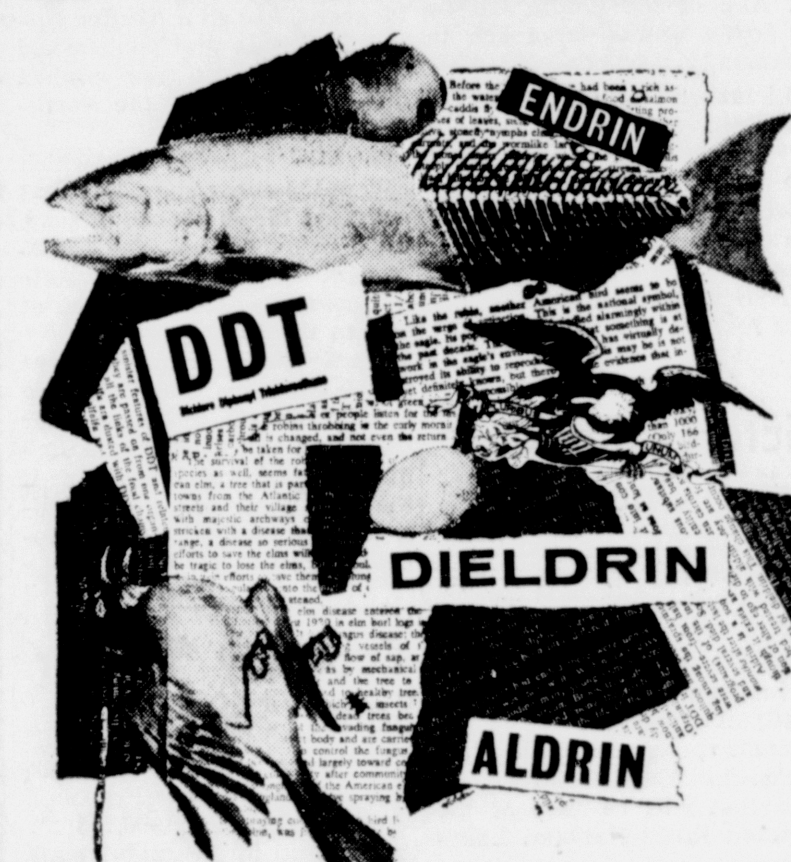

Michigan has come to a point in its history when it must outlaw the use of certain highly destructive pesticides such as DDT, Dieldrin, Aldrin, Heptachlor, Endrin, Lindane, Chlordane, and other "hard" or persistent chemical compounds.

Threats of fire, pestilence, and plague against our natural resources are as nothing compared to the pervasive and sinister attacks of such chemicals. They have now polluted our environment to the extent that we no longer eat any food or drink any fluid without swallowing at least minute quantities of these chemicals.

DDT is found in the waters of the Arctic and Antarctic Oceans, thousands of miles from any area where it has ever been used. It is found in fish life of the deep oceans. It is found inside the eggs of hawks and ospreys and falcons—eggs which do not hatch for the birds whose numbers are now in decline. We kill robins, our state symbol, and prevent the birth of bald eagles, our national symbol, with these pesticides.

Gains And Losses
Two years ago, a U. S. Public Health Service study showed that the average American has gathered 12 parts per million of DDT into his human fatty tissue. Nursing mothers now impart .08 parts per million of DDT in human milk given their infants.

Frankly, no one knows what

12 parts per million in human fatty tissue means. But we know it's going to stay there and that DDT in far smaller concentrations has awesome consequences for many small or simple forms of animal life.

We have already allowed ourselves to be carried much too far down this hazardous road. We have until recently condoned use of such chemicals even in the Department of Conservation, and we have in the past used them to reduce forest insects, park pests, and fish and game problems.

We are all sheep in the same herd, and the real fight is not against some distant state or federal bureau, or lone farmer, or crop-dusting pilot.

The real fight is against ourselves. Are you, as an urban, or suburban householder, willing to pay 25 cents a pound for apples where you now pay 20 cents? Will you accept higher prices when crops come home in short supply?

Individually and collectively, we enjoy big, luscious wormless fruits and vegetables available at every market, and we fail to question the individual farmer or rose-grower when crops and flowers are dusted, several times each year. But we should question them, and we should question ourselves.

The weight of evidence against these hard, or persistent chemicals is now so overwhelming that there is no longer any doubt of the need to end their use.

Long-Lasting Harm
These chemicals are mainly used in agriculture to control insect pests, and without question they appear to be highly effective. Generally they are spread as dust or in a fine spray that blankets an entire area. Unfortunately, this blanket keeps slipping off the bed.

One study shows that up to half of all DDT spread by crop-dusting airplanes does not settle, but escapes instead into the atmosphere. If not spread by airplane, such chemicals are carried from crop-land by the runoff of rainwaters or melting snow, or by any vagrant breeze.

As a result, DDT and other similar chemicals are now found in every major river system of the United States, in all the Great Lakes and all our inland lakes, in soil organisms, and in virtually all human and animal life on which studies have been carried out. Saddest of all, DDT, the most persistent of the bunch, loses only half its potency over a period of 10 to 15 years. If all further use of these chemicals were halted right now, we would still have to live with the effects of our past excesses for more than a generation.

To some it may seem strange that a conservationist should express concern for problems of agriculture. Yet the problem is so intimately woven into the fabric of our environment that eagles' eggs and the contents of a glass of water and the price of apples are all affected simultaneously.

Federal Law?
The big question is: How can we stop further use of these chemicals? Actually, agriculturists now have numerous "soft" chemicals which can be used to control agricultural pests, but which lose their strength after a relatively short period of time. Some are now in wide use and have proved their effectiveness in solving a broad spectrum of agricultural problems.

However, some soft chemicals are extremely dangerous to handle and require more frequent application to accomplish the same ends.

Only through broad agreement among agriculturists, or by sanctions against those who continue to use hard chemicals can a voluntary program work effectively.

Perhaps a federal law could be passed, preventing interstate commerce in these chemicals which are produced in plants in only six states, and a federal law would essentially bottle up production in those states.

In the meantime, there is much that can be done here in Michigan to reduce the use of hard pesticides. Recently, the governor asked the directors of the Departments of Agriculture and Conservation to prepare a statewide policy for adoption by these and other agencies within the state. Meetings are now being held to draft such a policy.

The Department of Conservation, meantime, has halted all use of hard chemicals for all of its programs, and we have issued binding orders that they are not to be used on any projects in the future.

When an ordinary bridge player makes a mistake, he makes a mistake. When an expert makes a mistake, he is just as guilty but he is likely to call it an error of judgment or to excuse it by saying, "I took a position."

Frequently that is just what the expert has done. He has deliberately violated some rule or principle of bidding or play because he feels that his partner has made a mistake and he, the expert, wants to correct it.

South's six heart bid shows one of these expert gambles. South had really bid his full strength when he jumped to three hearts and then went on to four hearts when his partner was doubled at three spades.

There was nothing wrong with North's four no-trump bid. He could expect a spade lead against any heart contract and at worst a heart slam would depend on a club finesse. Then, when expert South showed only one ace in response to four no-trump, North became scared and bid only five hearts.

This was a bad bidding error. It is inexcusable to use Blackwood and then stop short of a slam when your side holds three aces. In other words if you aren't sure that you want to be in a three-ace slam you don't use Blackwood.

It is even more inexcusable to go on to a slam after your partner has used Blackwood and signed off at five, but expert South didn't care about rules. He would have looked silly if North held only one ace but South didn't care. He bid the slam anyway and was right. He actually made an overtrick because West opened a spade.

Japanese Build Electric Trucks

Ann Landers

Short Fused Wife Needs Counseling

Dear Ann Landers: I am sure you receive many letters from wives whose husbands sock them around from time to time. Have you ever heard from a husband who gets slapped, kicked and punched? Well, this is my problem and I need to know what to do about it. We have three small children and if I ever lose control of myself and give my wife what she deserves she'll be in the hospital for a month.

You probably want to know why she hits me. Here's what set off the last two episodes: She forgot where she parked the car and I had to ride around town in a taxi for an hour before I found it. When I got home I was disgusted and told her so. She socked me in the jaw and broke my bridge.

Last night when I came home from work the soup was burning on the stove and my wife was next door visiting with a friend. I gave her a piece of my mind and she hauled off and kicked me. Now I have a lump on my leg the size of a golf ball.

If anyone had told me I would wind up writing to Ann Landers for help I would have said they were crazy, but I need someone to tell me what to do about this wild woman. — H.B.L.

Dear H.B.L.: You don't have three children. Mister, you have four. A woman who has such a short fuse needs to learn how to handle her hostilities in a rational, civilized manner. Insist that she get counseling. I feel sorry for those kids as well as for you. Rest assured they catch plenty in your absence. Your doctor can direct you.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm almost ashamed to write because my problem makes me sound like a moron, but the truth is I am being victimized by a five-year-old child.

Almost every evening when I come home from work this little neighbor girl is standing outside my door. I live in an apartment. Sally is a darling child, and I enjoy her company, but there are times when I would like to be alone. More often than not Sally asks me if she can stay for supper and I say yes. If I didn't lead her by the hand and take her home at 8 p. m., she would stay all night.

It seems strange to me that her parents never seem to be looking for her. When I bring her home they are very pleasant and thank me for being so "nice."

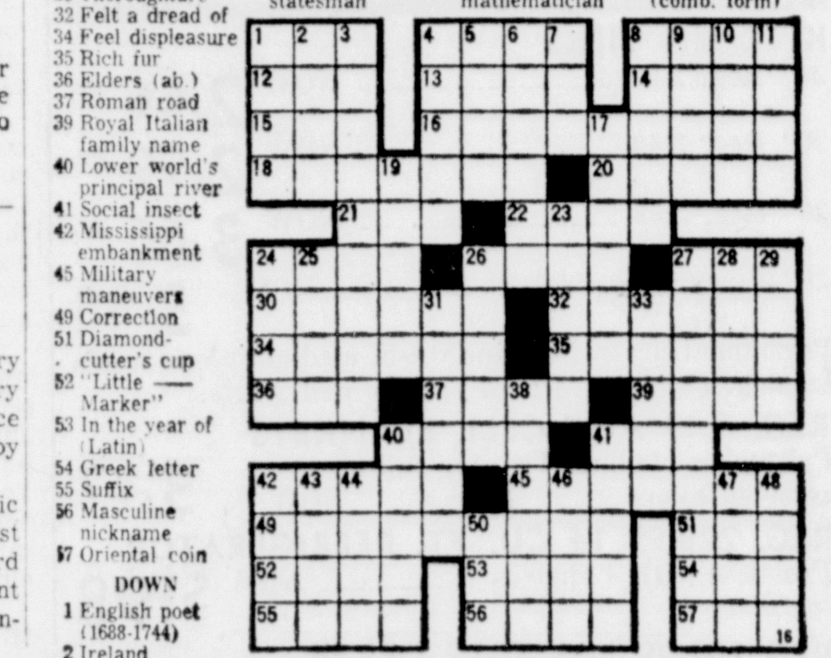

Last night I was very tired, and didn't want company so I of "prohibit?"

Of course, the prohibition era is hard for today's kids to visualize. How many youngsters even know the meaning and didn't want company so I of "prohibit?"

Some folks who think of themselves as executive timber are considered dead wood by others.

Boy Scout Troop 444, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Escanaba staged their second Winter Survival over the weekend of March 9 and 10 at Hermansville. The camp area was provided by Edsel Bedard, who has a camp at Hermansville and who is also a committeeman with the troop.

Twenty boys and five men participated in the event and all of those involved qualified for the Polar Bear award for spending 24 hours in the snow. The group was led by Bill Huebner, who is Scoutmaster of the troop.

They cooked three meals in the open over open fires and slept in tents and lean-tos. They took a five mile hike, qualified in axmanship, firemanship, camping, and cooking and burned an old log cabin for a conservation project under the supervision of Bedard, who is a fireman with the Escanaba Fire Department.

Those who earned their Polar Bear Awards are: Bill Huebner; David Livermore, assistant Scoutmaster; Ray Bydalek, advancement chairman; Edsel Bedard, camping chairman; Jean Cote; merit badge chairman; and Scouts Mark Bydalek, Ronald Jaeger, David Nelson, Robert Rusch, Mark Sankovitch, Mike Sankovitch, Mark Seymour, Bob Courchaine, Mike Marenger, Gerald Gunville, Steve Beltrame, John Cerasoli, Dan Ryno, Bradley Cote, and Jim Ryde.

Scouts Jack Bedard, Gary Bedard, Daniel Livermore, Tom Jaeger and Matt Finstrom also attended the survival, but earned their Polar Bear Awards in January.

Girl, 8, Injured In Auto Mishap

An eight-year-old who was struck by a car Friday in Harris Township of Menominee County remained in St. Francis Hospital this morning.

Hospital officials reported that Cynthia Boggs, Rte. 2, Bark River, was in fair condition with injuries to her right leg.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said she was struck at the shoulder of County Rd. 416 about a mile and a half east of County Rd. 569 at 3:55 p.m. by a car driven by Gregory Kutha.

Troopers reported that Cynthia had just gotten off a school bus with two other girls and that she wasn't visible to Kutha until the bus turned a corner. The two other girls jumped out of the way of the car, officials said. Cynthia was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Kutha was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions.

State Police also issued traffic tickets Friday to the following motorists: Joseph Vandamme, Rte. 1, Rock and Gerald Pilon, 411 Delta Ave., Gladstone, both for no operator's license.

Policy Stand Sees Peril In Nation's Course

stake is not simply the leadership of our party or even our country—it is our right to moral leadership on this planet."

The New York senator said, "I have previously communicated this decision to President Johnson" and late last night his brother, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., went to Wisconsin to "communicate my decision to Senator McCarthy."

"To End Bloodshed"
Kennedy said he is running to "end the bloodshed" and to close the gaps in America between rich and poor, young and old." He said his aim was to make "America stand for hope."

He went on to say he is running "because it is now unmistakably clear" that what he called disastrous policies can be changed only by changing those who made them.

The scene of Kennedy's news conference was the historic caucus room of the old Senate Office Building where John F. Kennedy announced his candidacy Jan. 2, 1960.

Great Handicaps
But the setting was drastically different.

The 42-year-old former attorney general begins his quest under enormous handicaps:

—He is seeking to dislodge an incumbent President.

—He is a step behind another Democratic dissident, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., who made an impressive showing in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary and is expected to make a strong showing in Wisconsin April 2.

—His early soundings have indicated strong opposition to his plunge from many Democratic leaders who fear a party cleavage that could hand the presidency to the Republican candidate in November.

Workshop For Needy Sought

MARQUETTE. Possible formation of non-profit sheltered workshop corporation to serve the handicapped of Alger, Delta and Marquette counties will be discussed at a meeting of the Sheltered Workshop Advisory Committee at 7:30 p.m. March 21 at Northern Michigan University.

The proposed organization would serve 250 mentally, emotionally and physically handicapped persons in the tri-county area, according to a survey conducted by the committee. The majority of these, 120, have been identified as Marquette area residents.

Also being studied by the committee is the possibility of constructing a factory-type facility which would serve 100 persons, including 50 live-in clients.

Financing for construction, equipping and operation of the center is proposed to be accomplished by local and federal funds.

Construction of the facility also would hinge on obtaining at least $75,000 in contract work from industries throughout the state. Work at the center would be similar to that done by persons employed in Goodwill Industries.

Total capital outlay for the facility is estimated at $350,000 with the annual cost pegged at $235,425.

Capital outlay monies would include $150,000 for the building and $200,000 for a dormitory facility.

Members of the steering committee include Mrs. George Maniaci, Gladstone; Mrs. Frances Artley, Bob Olsen, Charles Gallagher, Escanaba; Tom Moss, Gwinn; Leslie E. Niemi, Munising.

Hermansville Tops Class D Regional

MARQUETTE — Hermansville won the Class D regional basketball championship today at Northern Michigan University with a 61-59 victory over Painesdale-Jeffers.

The victory sends Coach Don Hill's Redskins into the state tournament quarterfinals next week against DeTour.

Randy Fochesato pined in 22 points and John Whitens added 19 to lead the winners. Mike Raiche contributed 11 and Larry Raiche added 10 to the attack as the Redskins fought off a final period surge by Painesdale.

After the Jets took the lead at 52 to 51, Hermansville surged back on top at 58-54 and was never headed.

Marc Caspary had 15 points and Frank Tadducci and Cully Maki each netted 14 points for the losers.

Hermansville, which broke away from Ewen-Trout Creek early in the semifinal game Thursday, jumped quickly on Painesdale behind the shooting of Fochesato and Whitens.

Firing from long-range, the Redskins built an 11-2 lead in the first four minutes before the Jets recovered to challenge near the end of the half.

Whitens connected on a pair of jump shots and a hook and also added three free throws in the first quarter as Hermansville mounted a 20 to 8 advantage.

Menominee Trips Ishpeming Quint

MARQUETTE—The defending Class B champion Menominee Maroons moved one step closer to defending their title with an 83-58 victory over Ishpeming in Class B regional action.

The Maroons move into the championship finals tonight at 8 when they face Iron River, victors over the Manistique Emeralds in last night's other contest.

Menominee, shooting a remarkable 45 per cent, made 30 of 66 field goal attempts enroute to their triumph. They held quarter leads of 16-10, 39-21, 60-36 and the final 83-58.

Foshesato took over in the second quarter, triggering the Redskins' first seven points. Hermansville increased its lead to 27 to 14, before Frank Tadducci led a Painesdale-Jeffers counter attack.

Tadducci, who failed to score in the first quarter, connected on five fielders in the second stanza including three in a row as the Jets closed to within five points at 29 to 24.

Denver, Sioux In Puck Finals

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Denver's poised and powerful Pioneers, riding the crest of a 21-game winning streak, and North Dakota's determined Sioux, who have tasted defeat nine times this season, battle for the NCAA hockey championship tonight.

North Dakota defeated defending champion Cornell University 3-1 Friday night. Denver turned back Boston College 4-1 Thursday night in the other semifinal.

That set up the first all-western finale since Michigan beat Denver 6-3 in 1964.

North Dakota and Denver met four times this season and Denver won three of those games—including two convincing triumphs at Denver six weeks ago. The Sioux remember those losses.

Miller also led the Menominee scoring attack with 25 points. He was followed in the scoring column by guard Dave Haglund with 15 and forwards Dewey Bellisle and Ken Heckel with 18 and 14 points. Tom Hammar, Bob Narotzky and Tom Simula each had 12 for Ishpeming and Ed Stimac added 10.

A free throw by Mike Raiche at the buzzer restored Hermansville to a six point lead, 30 to 24.

The Redskins increased their lead to 10 points midway in the third quarter on a pair of baskets by Fochesato, field goals by Mike Raiche and Whitens and a pair of free throws by Larry Raiche, but Painesdale charged back to even the score at 40-40 with a burst of 10 straight points.

Selection Of Canham Causes Riff Among Wolverine Athletic Family

DETROIT (AP)—Track coach Don Canham's selection as new Michigan athletic director capped a tug of war in the Wolverine athletic family which eventually dropped the prime candidate, Iowa Athletic Director Forest Evashevski, out of the picture.

The Associated Press learned today a ground swell among the "M Club" membership favoring former Wolverine grid great Evashevski hit a snag when coaches on the Michigan staff reportedly opposed the move.

Thursday night after handing last-minute preparations for the two-day meet.

"It's a tremendous honor, but following Fritz Crisler makes me feel like coming up to bat after Babe Ruth," said Canham in his office in Cobo Hall.

"Fritz built a magnificent athletic plant and there are lots of things we hope to do to capitalize on it, through attractive scheduling, tournaments, public relations, and particularly promotion.

Canham declined to say whether he had long-range plans to schedule such grid powers as Notre Dame, or Alabama, in Michigan's 100,000-seat football stadium.

But he commented: "Times change and so do procedures. Everybody has his own ideas. Now I'd like to try some things I've been thinking about for years."

It was a foregone conclusion that Bump Elliott, head Michigan football coach, would be fired if Evashevski, onetime blocking mate for legendary Tom Harman, became the successor to athletic director H.O. "Fritz" Crisler.

Elliott also was mentioned as a director candidate, but informed sources said that Canham, 49, highly successful as a businessman and as a winning Wolverine track coach, was Crisler's own choice as his successor.

Reportedly, two members of the Michigan board of regents held out against Canham because of "conflict of interests" stemming from his ownership of an Ann Arbor firm supplying track equipment and training films said to be a $1 million-a-year business.

However, Canham removed that barrier by agreeing to place his firm in an irrevocable trust and eliminating its name of Don Canham Enterprises. It was a weary Canham who learned of his Wolverine promotion while bustling in his capacity as meet director of the NCAA indoor track championships at Cobo Arena.

Canham, who founded the NCAA indoor meet four years ago, got only three hours sleep

Victories By Upstarts Surprise Cage Circles

By The Associated Press

A couple of upstarts, Texas Christian and Santa Clara, startled college basketball circles Friday night.

The Horned Frogs of TCU upset Kansas State 77-72 and the Broncos bowled over the New Mexico Lobos, 86-73 in second-round play in the NCAA tournament.

Their surprising triumphs overshadowed Houston's 91-75 rout of Louisville, UCLA's 58-49 conquest of New Mexico State and North Carolina's 91-72 defeat of previously unbeaten St. Bonaventure.

Dallas Gaining Standing Still

By The Associated Press

Dallas made up ground by standing still, but it may be too little too late.

The Chaparrals were idle Friday and started the day in third place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division. But when Denver was beaten by Minnesota 106-95, the Rockets slipped into third place, boosting Dallas into second.

The problem is that New Orleans, first in the division, also won Friday, beating Houston 108-99 and now the Bucs' magic number to clinch the title is only three.

Muskegon Ties Des Moines Six

DES MOINES (AP) — Des Moines and Muskegon tied 6-6 in an International Hockey League game Friday night. It was the Oak Leafs' 11th straight failure to beat Muskegon, the IHL champions.

In other IHL action, Columbus moved into third place in the league by defeating Dayton 4-2 at Columbus and Toledo tied Fort Wayne 2-2 at Toledo.

Muskegon rallied in the closing minutes to tie on a goal by Ken Kelly. Jean-Guy Lagace scored two Muskegon goals and Bob Tombari, Carl Brewer and Bob Smith made one each.

Ryun To Defend Mile Title Today

DETROIT (AP) — The indoor track season ends Saturday—too soon for Bob Beamon, world's best long jumper on the boards, and not soon enough for Jim Ryun, the best miler and half-miler on any kind of track.

"Just 11 more laps today and this indoor season ends for me, and I can't wait until it's over," said a slightly lame Ryun. Kansas' super runner who defends his mile title today in the closing session of the NCAA indoor meet at Cobo Arena.

Friday night, Ryun uncorked a typical explosive finish in his best two-mile ever to dethrone two-time champion Gerry Lindgren. But Beamon, the Texas El Paso sophomore, did even better with a sensational 27-2 long jump and became the first double winner in NCAA indoor history by adding the triple jump title.

Beamon, who broke his own indoor long jump mark of 27-1, was surprised by his stunning 27-2 leap, which was followed by an electrifying 27-7/4 jump on which he barely fouled on the takeoff board.

Ryun talked like a mighty tired young man after running Lindgren and Australia's Kerry Pearce into the boards with a modest 8:38.9 clocking.

"I'm having trouble with bad tendons and arches, which hurt my feet, and I took a cortisone shot in my left ankle two weeks ago," said Ryun.
